

John Elzinga's insights come from a diverse background. In college he majored in Religion and Theology, subsequently he spent several years in the professional ministry, and then twenty-some years in the business world in positions of leadership and management. His research, study and experience as an evangelical Christian has led him to found Reality Check Recourses...developing materials and messages that expand the boundaries of Real Christianity!

John is a certified "life coach" and has developed resources for personal improvement, organizational effectiveness, and church related or faith-based effectiveness. He has delivered seminars to business leaders and organizations across the nation.

John Elzinga has spent years reading and researching issues which hold back both the individual Christian and the evangelical Church from achieving their intended purposes. He has been an adviser to pastors and business leaders concerning matters of organizational performance and dysfunction.

He has released a bestselling book called: Thank God I'm Not A Pharisee...or am I? Also available is an accompanying video based bible study series by the same name.

His current project: Sailing The Seven Seas of Life is a seminar and upcoming book highlighting seven key principles which can guide the believer toward a fulfilled and successful life.

John and his wife Claudia live in Temecula, California, where they are active members of Rancho Community Church. They have six children and three grandchildren. They enjoy traveling and John tries to enjoy golf.
